DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4, 8,9 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Quaintance 5,487,679. Quaintance discloses a cable connection system, comprising a contact body (46) which has first means on a cable connecting side, the first means comprising an essentially rotationally symmetrical central clamping element (42), which is integrally formed on the contact body and tapers along an axis towards a cable end and a clamping sleeve (22) which concentrically surrounds the clamping element and can be screwed to the contact body in an axial direction and has an inner essentially rotationally symmetrical clamping contour (27,31) such that, when the clamping sleeve (22) and the clamping element (42) are screwed together, a stranded wire of a cable which is inserted into an intermediate space between the clamping element and the clamping contour, characterized in that the clamping element 42 is cone shaped and the clamping contour comprises a first section in which a limiting face of the clamping contour extends approximately parallel to the cone face of the clamping cone and has a rounded edge, and in that a width of the clamping sleeve in a region of the clamping contour is smaller than a maximum outer diameter of the clamping cone.

Regarding claim 2, a limiting face of the clamping contour in the first section extends parallel to the cone face of the clamping cone.

Regarding claim 3, a limiting face of the clamping contour has a slightly rounded section in the first section.

Regarding claim 4, a thread region is arranged on that side of the clamping cone, which faces away from the cable and a first recess is provided between the thread region and the clamping cone (see fig. 2).

Regarding claim 8, Quaintance discloses flats (not numbered, see fig. 1)

Regarding claim 9, the contact body and the clamping sleeve are produced from metal.

Regarding claim 11, the contact body is shaped as a socket on the contact side.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Quaintance in view of Herman et al. 5,100,348. Quaintance discloses the invention substantially as claimed except for the contact body and clamping sleeve being produced from brass and provided with a silver plating. However, Herman et al. disclose that it is well known in the art to use brass and silver plating (col. 5, lines 65- col. 6, lines 1-5) which are which is highly resistant. And it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious engineering choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416 (CCPA 1960).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 5 and 6 are allowed.

As stated in the previous Office Action, claim 7 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
